WOULD BUILD BRIDGE OVER LEE'S FERRY

The following Senate Joint Memorial No. 3 was introduced in the State Senate by Senator Hugh E. Campbell: An Act—To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in congress assembled:

Your memorialists, the Third Legislature of the State of Arizona, at its first special session assembled, respectfully represents:

That the Colorado river flowing through the northwestern portion of the state of Arizona, presents an obstacle to the free passage to that portion of the state lying northwest thereof, and to the states of Utah and Nevada, adjacent thereto.

That during the past few years increased activities in agriculture, mining, and the stock industry in that section of Arizona lying northwest of the Colorado River, has so greatly increased the traffic across the said river as to make the construction of a bridge at some safe and convenient place a matter of vital necessity to the people of the state of Arizona; and

Whereas, there has existed from earliest times a crossing at a point on said Colorado river, in Coconino county, Arizona, known as Lee's Ferry, which crossing is known to be, and is, a safe and logical location for a bridge across said river, and the only safe and logical location therefor; and

Whereas, the said Lee's Ferry is located on United States government land, which said government land is known and designated as the Navajo Indian Reservation; and

Whereas, it has been ascertained and determined that a suitable bridge can be constructed across the Colorado river at said point for the sum of three hundred thousand dollars; therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Arizona:

That the Congress of the United States is hereby petitioned and urged to enact such legislation as may be necessary to construct a bridge across the Colorado river at a place known and designated on the maps of the state of Arizona as Lee's Ferry, in Coconino county, Arizona, at a cost not to exceed the sum of three hundred thousand dollars. Be it further Resolved, that a copy of this memorial and these resolutions be forwarded to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Honorable Secretary of the Interior, and the Representatives of Arizona in Congress; and that our Representatives in Congress be and they are hereby requested to do all in their power to accomplish the enactment of such legislation.

News of Interest Gathered Here and There in the State

Proposed Amendment for Compensation of Injured Workmen.

Petitions are in general circulation asking that a proposed amendment to the constitution be put on the ballot this fall, providing for compensation of injured workmen. If sufficient names are secured on the petitions, the amendment will go on the ballot and be either accepted or rejected by the voters in November. Reading of the amendment shows successful effort to get out a law in simple words and with definite provision of fixed sums to be paid as compensation.

The proposal is state insurance, paid by the employer and without charge to the employee. Cost to employers will be less than insurance purchased from insurance companies, notwithstanding the compensation provided for specified injuries of every kind, is higher than in any other state. Neither employer or employee is compelled to work under the measure, but is so advantageous to both that they will each want to. Otherwise, they have recourse to the common law. General taxes would be reduced under the proposed amendment, as it would do away with litigation in the courts over personal injuries. — Oatman News.

Bishop Atwood's Daughter Marries Army Officer.

Word has been received here by friends of Miss Elizabeth Atwood, daughter of Bishop J. W. Atwood of Phoenix, relating that she was married on June 10 to Lieut. Edward L. Duer of Philadelphia, in the Episcopal church at Anniston, Ala.

Miss Atwood lived in Arizona when a child, and came back to spend the winter here after completing her education in the East. She is a bright, attractive girl, and made many friends during her visit here. As she did not intimate her intended marriage to anyone here, the news was received with surprise.

Lieut. Duer belongs to an old Philadelphia family and is a member of the Eleventh field artillery. — Arizona Gazette.

Booze Auto-Killed.

Sheriff Guy C. Welch and Deputy Harry Racety left this morning for Wilcox, where they were called by Constable Jess Moore over the phone this morning advising Sheriff Welch that in an encounter with a bootlegger Harry Weese, who with Constable Moore had gone out to arrest a bootlegger named Willie Krupp, had shot and killed Krupp, after the bootlegger had opened fire on the officers, shooting at them twice before they returned the fire. Krupp was shot with a 30-30 rifle by Weese, who was on his side of the machine. There were two auto loads of booze, the other making his escape immediately and is being sought today by officers.

Adjutant General's Ruling.

The adjutant general of Arizona has sent the following ruling to the Coconino county draft board in response to a request for definite information regarding husbands of wives, who are self-supporting:

"This office holds that a man has no dependents when he has a wife and no children when that wife is actually engaged at some occupation by which she is earning her own living."

Penitentiary Farm.

Following the receipt of the report of state appraisers, the commission of state institutions will make the announcement of the tract of land the state will purchase to add to the farming lands of the state penitentiary at Florence. At the last visit of the commission at Florence the members inspected the various tracts submitted. Appraisers now are making their examination.

Drought Broken at Snowflake

Snowflake, Ariz., June 19.—Recent local showers over this section have improved the range conditions to some extent. The drought is considered the most disastrous in thirty-five years. Cattleman report from 20 to 60 per cent losses. Some streams are now dry for the first time in many years. Indications are good for continued rains which may become general.

The jury in the case of Elsie Marlay, charged with the murder of Harvey Powell in this city about two years ago, brought in their verdict last Monday night acquitting the defendant. The trial was commenced last Friday with Judge Lyman of Maricopa county, on the bench, and most of the time was consumed in securing a jury. The taking of evidence was hurried along, and the case given to the jury at the close of court Monday afternoon. The jury were only out a few hours arriving at their verdict. — Winslow Mail.

Where the Mail Goes.

The United States postal agent in France reports that on the night of April 25, 1918, approximately 100 sacks, consisting exclusively of parcel post packages and newspapers were destroyed by an accidental fire, outside of the United States postoffice in France.

The contents of the sacks originated to the greatest extent in the Southern states and were addressed to the 16th and 18th infantry regiments and the 5th, 6th and 7th field artillery regiments.

GOVERNOR HUNT'S JUDGED BY HIS FRIENDS

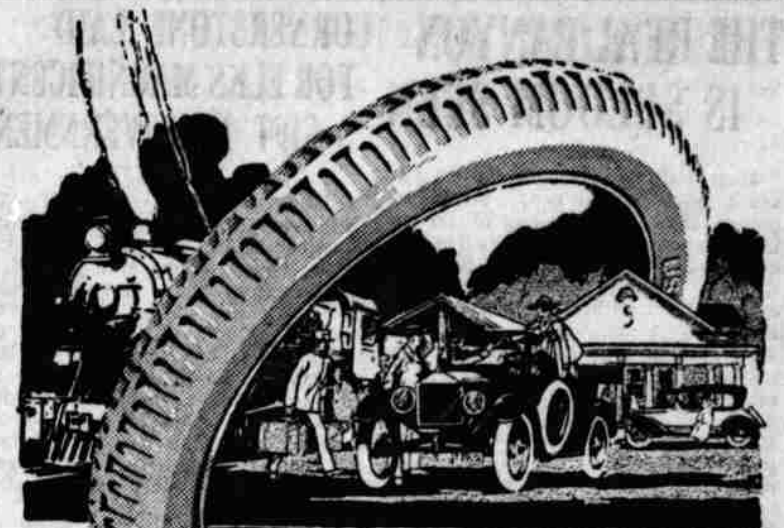

Governor Hunt probably is a patriotic American and has no sympathy for the Hun. He certainly could have no reason for being otherwise. He has aided the Red Cross and purchased Liberty Bonds and scored German methods, and in all these things he should be commended. There are some who appear not to understand why the governor has become the target of so much condemnation, but that is a matter that is easy to explain—he has given friendship and comfort to those who are very much under suspicion of being the most sinister and treacherous enemies of the United States. He not only has extended this shameful friendship to them as Hunt the man, but has clothed them with his endorsement as Hunt the governor, something that tends to besmirch the highest office within the gift of the people of this state, and humiliate every Arizonian.

The I. W. W. leaders on trial at Chicago have been represented as the bitter foes of democracy, and it has been shown that they have made assertions that were treasonable. Yet the governor had his picture taken standing close to and between two of these indicted men; a picture that revealed every evidence of his friendship for them. Then, the other day he stopped off at Prescott and made a beeline for the jail, where two accused I. W. W. were incarcerated—one of them convicted of making disloyal utterances. Before this, a raid on the I. W. W. headquarters at Miami had brought to light two letters written by the governor to two Wobblies. The picture was given prominence in a publication that is regarded as disloyal and which has been barred from the mails.

There is only one thing for the people of Arizona to do; judge the governor by the company he keeps. He may invest in Liberty Bonds and aid the Red Cross until every penny he has is gone, but that will not take from him a particle of the odium he has gained through his questionable associates. A man does not go out of his way to encourage a person he does not like and for whom he has no sympathy. In lending the dignity of his office to these individuals of evil repute, Hunt has disgraced the state, and he need not expect the people to forget or forgive. He has in the past posed as a friend of organized labor, but every favor he shows or has shown an I. W. W. has been a blow at union labor, for the Wobblies are recognized by organized labor as its most bitter and most injurious enemy.

In his arraignment of the Bisbee affair, Hunt appeared to forget that the strike waged in the Hill City did not have the sanction of any recognized branch of organized labor. There was a labor union in Bisbee, but its charter was revoked by Moyer because he said that the I. W. W. had gained control of it. It was indisputably an I. W. W. strike, called by the Wobblies in the highest paid district in the world not to better their condition, but to cripple the nation in its war preparations by hampering copper production. Yet, Governor Hunt, in a scathing message to the legislature, denounced those who thwarted the I. W. W. In considering these facts, is it any wonder that the people of the state are rising in their wrath against the man whom a strange turn of circumstances put in the governor's chair. — Douglas Dispatch.
